BORDEAUX IS PROVISIONAL CAPITAL OF FRANCE; ALL GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS HASTILY QUIT PARIS

President Poincaré, Cabinet, Members of Senate and Chamber of Deputies, with Fifteen Judges of Courts Leave in Special Trains; Population Takes Situation Calmly and Prepare General Exodus in Face of Rapid Approach of German Troops; Refugees Forced to Make Long Detours Because of Congested Traffic of Troop Trains; Passenger Service Paralyzed as Result of Expected Raids by Kaiser's Cavalry Forces.

AMBASSADOR HERRICK REMAINS AT POST TO LOOK AFTER INTERESTS OF WARRING NATIONS AND PROTECT STRANDED AMERICANS

Paris, Sept. 3 (11:40 a. m.)—President Poincaré, and his cabinet have left for Bordeaux, the new French seat of government, where they will arrive in the morning.

Two trains reserved for the president and members of the senate and chamber of deputies left for Bordeaux this afternoon. Fifteen judges of the court of cassation also will be transferred to the provisional capital of France.

In addition to the American ambassador, M. T. Herrick, the Swiss minister, M. Lardi, has decided to remain in Paris.

The population of the capital is taking the departure of the heads of the government calmly, recognizing that it is a matter of prudence.

A proclamation by the French government describes the move as precautionary and sets forth that an attack on Paris in the near future is not considered probable.

No data on which to base a judgment of the general situation over the wide-flung battle line in France is available. The retirement of the allies without a defeat and fighting every foot of the way is an expression that has become stereotyped.

It is, however, about the only official news that has reached London since Field Marshal Kitchener's story was given out last Sunday.

The British occupation of Lemberg, the capital of Austrian Galicia, may have a far-reaching effect on the campaign in eastern Europe, apart altogether from the loss of Austrian prestige through the fall of the city. More than three-quarters of the population are Poles and the Russians anticipate that their entry to the city will contribute toward the hoped-for Polish uprising against Germany. This uprising, Emperor Nicholas contemplated, when he promised autonomy to a united Polish kingdom.

The rush of recruits for the British army is phenomenal. No fewer than 60,000 men have joined Lord Kitchener's second army in the last few days.

WILL DEFEND PARIS AGAINST THE INVADERS

Paris, Sept. 3 (11:50 p. m.)—It is officially announced that General Gallieni, commander of the army defending the city, today issued the following proclamation to the inhabitants of Paris:

"The members of the government of the republic have left Paris in order to give a new impetus to the defense of the nation. I have been ordered to defend Paris against the invader. This order I will fulfill to the end." (Signed) GALLIENI.

Military Governor of Paris, commanding the Army of Paris."

PRESIDENT AND FRENCH CABINET IN BORDEAUX

Bordeaux, France, Sept. 2 (2 a. m.)—President Poincaré and the members of the French cabinet arrived here today and were greeted by immense and cheering crowds. They have established headquarters for the government.

Mr. Herrick asked Washington on Friday last if he was instructed to stay, giving at the same time his opinion that he ought to stay. Secretary of State Bryan replied that Mr. Herrick might remain.

The American minister has sent J. W. Garrett, minister to Argentina, Louis A. Sussdorf, Jr., of New York, third secretary of the embassy, and Captain Parker, military attaché to Britain, with the French government at Bordeaux, with the approval of Mr. Bryan.

The American embassy is now charged with British, Russian, Japanese, Servian, German and Austrian affairs in Paris and it is probable that the embassy will have its telegrams and mail delivered, in any event, owing to the diplomatic exemptions.

GREAT BATTLE CONTINUES; GERMANS NEARING PARIS

Most Momentous Conflict
British Soldiers Have Engaged in Since Waterloo;
Still in Progress.
ALLIES FALL BACK TO AVOID DISASTER

Strictest Censorship Maintained for Fear Kaiser's Forces May Learn Military Secrets of Vital Importance.

London, Sept. 3 (11:19 a. m.)—The battle to decide whether history will repeat itself in a second siege of Paris is still in progress, according to the latest official announcement here.

Future military historians will write volumes about the details of this battle, but all the British public knows officially concerning the titanic struggle—the most momentous British soldiers have fought since Waterloo—is contained in one sentence of an official report issued last night by the press bureau.

"Continuous fighting has been in progress along almost the whole line of battle."

To this generally the French official communication adds the fact that the allied forces have fallen back toward the southwest to avoid an action which might have been engaged under unfavorable conditions. How far and to what line the allies have gone is unknown.

There can be no revelation of military secrets, nothing which a patriotic censorship could criticize. In stating these facts but the German army which is engaging the allies knows precisely where their front line is drawn and the purpose of censorship is only to suppress facts which might enlighten the enemy.

The brief official bulletin of last night is the first word the British people have received from their government concerning the present battle. The last previous bulletin was Field Marshal Kitchener's statement, Sunday night, throwing a welcome light on the previous four days' battle, which ended Saturday and which reflected the greatest credit on the generalship and the discipline of the British army.

In spite of the fact that the French capital has been removed to Bordeaux and that the German army of the west is within thirty miles of the outer fortifications of Paris, a strange air of confidence prevails today among the allies. The general feeling seems to be that the Germans are wearing themselves out in hammering away at the allies' lines, which give but do not break.

President Poincaré has issued proclamations to his people telling them that military necessity alone has led him to remove his government to Bordeaux.

Military experts agree that Paris will soon be the pivot of the hostile forces operating in the area of the west. Even the downfall of the French capital is not expected to end the operations.

The feeling of confidence was greatly increased by the news of the great victory of the Russians in Galicia. Reports from Petrograd (St. Petersburg) tell of the entry of Russians into Lemberg, the capital of Galicia. These appear credible as news of the defeat of the Austrians in that district has been received from several sources.

The members of the government of the republic have left Paris in order to give a new impetus to the defense of the nation. I have been ordered to defend Paris against the invader. This order I will fulfill to the end." (Signed) GALLIENI.

Russia Is Successive IN AUSTRIAN CONFLICTS

London, Sept. 3 (11:12 a. m.)—The Petropavlovsk (Petropavlovsk) correspondent of the Post sends the following on the operations on the Russian front:

"Russia is scoring success after success against Austria and is momentarily expecting news of a signal victory."

The commander-in-chief on the Austrian front apparently plans to drive in strong with one army from the east, starting from the Russian provinces, including Rumania, and in the meantime merely aims to restrain the Austrian advances into the Polish provinces, thus keeping Austria on the alert along the line of two to three hundred miles.

"While pushing temporary advances in South Poland, the Russians were forcing their way westward from Podolia and Bessarabia on Lemberg. When the Austrians finally realized these plans they attempted to turn the Russian left flank near Halic near the junction of the Dniester river with the Danube and a sanguinary fight took place there two days ago."

"The Austrians were signally defeated, losing 5,000 killed and many wounded."

Special Session of Diet.

Tokio, Sept. 3.—The emperor has personally directed a special session of the diet to convene on September 10. The majority has decided formally not to oppose the government's war measures.

Summary of Today's War News

Absence of official announcements from the capitals of the belligerents today is the surest indication that the fighting in the east and west continues without decisive results.

Such news dispatches as escaped the censors tend to confirm earlier official claims and admissions. The Germans are pushing their right wing nearer Paris, while their center and left appear to be held by the French. Russia pressing forward in the Austrian province of Galicia, after having taken the strongly fortified capital, Lemberg. The Germans are admittedly victorious in East Prussia.

The Japanese are said to have occupied seven islands near Kiao Chow and to have landed additional troops within marching distance of that German stronghold in the face of protests by China.

King Nicholas of Montenegro is reported as determined to occupy Scutari.

The governor and other German officials of Samoa have been made prisoners by the British and sent to the Fiji Islands.

The government of France is now established at Bordeaux. The foreign embassies and legations with the exception of those of the United States and Switzerland have also been removed from Paris to Bordeaux.

Fourteen miles northeast by north of Compiegne is LaFere, one of the weaker French fortresses, evidently in the hands of the Germans. Farther east and north the allied armies apparently hold their own in the neighborhood of Laon and Bethel (twenty-four miles northeast of Reims). The right of the allies rests on the fortified Franco-German frontier.

The names of the British who fell in the four-days battle last week will not be announced until they have been communicated to relatives. The heavy loss of officers in proportion to the men is the story of South Africa over again. It indicates that the officers refused to take cover as they insist that the men shall.

The west coast of Belgium and the free coast of northern France are free from Germans. Many Americans are crossing the channel to the continent, determined to see something of the war at any risk.

Prisoners, including one general, 32 guns, a standard and quantities of supplies.

"Apparently the progress of the southern Russian army from Podolia in Galicia has been a series of fights on an increasing scale until a third river, known as the Foul Lipsa, was reached. The fight for the possession of the valley of the Foul Lipsa was severe. The Austrians realized the strength of the Russians and had strongly fortified a naturally formidable position. This was carried after an obstinate fight. The Austrian force, a whole army corps, lost about half of its strength.

"These actions occupied the Hungarians, their right still being in Russian territory. It is evident that all the actions were part of a concerted movement with the surrounding of Lemberg as its objective, thus dealing a death blow to the Austrian defense."
